Adventure Summary

Vigilant Seal faction leader Eando Kline and representative of the Thuvian city state of Aspenthar, Gol Amri, assigned you to a team of agents to explore the Thuvian desert. A magical dagger entrusted to the Society was linked to an ancient Jistkan war machine lost somewhere in the desert. The Society's enemy, Aslynn, was looking for it, and the Society meant to find it first! You searched the desert, disabling or destroying ancient devices which were interfering with the signal that connected the dagger to the war machine. After surviving the desert's perils, you came face to face with the ancient war machine, and learned that they were a still-living automaton buried in the sands. But before you could talk to them, you had to contend with one of Aslynn's changeling children who had come to claim their power! After securing the safety of the automaton, Star, you ☐ convinced them of your good intentions or ☐ failed to earn their trust.
