Alston Luckyn Bilvyn Nirbfiln Flipwidget is 81 years old.

Alston has been married these past fifteen years to the love of his life -- Goldy Looper Farmer, now Goldy Looper Farmer Flipwidget. After fifteen years of trying, Goldy finally went to Alston's mother to get some medicines, notably nettle tea -- and at long last, as of July 4715, Goldy is pregnant! So the couple had a traditional gnomish party in which everyone came, and raised a home for the new family. Since the business was doing so well, things looked rosy!

Alston was raised to work in the family business -- the Peppermint and Tea cafe. This means working on making and brewing all sorts of beverages and teas, medicines, and even fireworks. It also means knowing how to keep the books, how to talk to suppliers, and how to make sure that all of the credit for his hard work goes to his momma and poppa and ultimately to great-grandpa Alston Luckyn "GT" Flipwidget. And now, it means panicking. It means panicking because Barzilla Thrune has outlawed night tea and mint and the curfew cuts into social hours at the now defunct and closed tea house.

Well, Alston has a family to protect. He's got to gnome up and do something about this terrible situation. So he went out to find some of the regulars from the Peppermint and Tea cafe. The ancient liberties of Kintargo need to be protected -- as does the Flipwidget family, and Alston's own unborn baby!

When Alston and Goldy announced her pregnancy, just last month, Great-Grandpa "GT" ordered Alston to take his old longsword, "for when you have to defend my great great grandchild – you know when you have your first son he has to be named Alston Flipwidget V, after me!" It was a bit of an embrassment, so Alston just put it up in the attic with his old brightly colored gaudy parade armor (from the 4687 Gnomish Pride festival). But perhaps he will need these now, to defend his wife and unborn child? Alston figures that Great Grandpa heard the political stirrings, and saw that the whole family may need defending – that's the cost of being the fourth Kintargo gnome to carry the name Alston Flipwidget.

 collecting so many dresses. But she has capitalized on her knowledge of fabrics and the textile industry to become a powerful merchant in the fabric market.
- 73 Paternal grandmother's first husband's son by second wife Rumbolio Salros -- He's a

- 49 Younger brother's adopted son (via his first wife) Leander Hargold Shoop -- He's a thoughtful boy who runs two businesses. He produces beautiful chinaware, and he maintains a zoo/pet-store filled with small animals. He rides around town on a strange mechanical wheeled contraption, delivering his wares.

- 32 Younger sister's first daughter Ludmilla Kurli Bott -- She is such a thirtees-ager -- always swooning over the boys or listening to crazy bards, dressing up. She is well loved by the family, except when she is in one of her states.
- 10 Younger brother's first wife's son Alston Bilvyn Mario Flipwidget -- One of the two halfcousins affectionately known as "the terror twins." Taken individually, they are irresistible.
 Together, they are irrepressible.
