This Chronicle sheet grants access to the following:

Blakros Blacklist: Though a strange creature may have been directing his movements at the time, it was your hand that slew Pendleton Blakros, young scion of the noteworthy Blakros family. The family makes deliberate efforts to blacklist you from their business dealings and burn those who refuse to do the same. You take a permanent -2 penalty on all Day Job rolls on the Isle of Kortos or on a Blakros vessel. You may buy off this penalty with enough favors: you may expend one prestige per adventure doing favors for the Blakros family and sending appropriate condolences. Once you have spent 2 Prestige Points in this manner, cross this boon off your Chronicle sheet.

Friend of the Family: You have not only saved the Blakros Museum, but you have also saved Pendleton Blakros, son of the fabulously well-connected Dhrami Blakros. The family celebrates your accomplishments with a grand dinner held in your honor, introducing you Absalom's most noteworthy nobles, and granting you a permanent +1 bonus on Diplomacy and Knowledge (nobility) checks made within Absalom. You have also proven yourself clever and resourceful enough to marry or be adopted into the Blakros Family, allowing you to purchase the following Vanity:

Blakros Family Member (20 PP): You are a member of the well-established Blakros noble family, granting you a comfortable townhouse in Absalom's fashionable Petal or Ivy districts and a small staff of servants to care for it. You gain a +1 bonus on Knowledge (nobility) checks and may use that skill to make Day Job rolls. In addition, while in Absalom, your family connections grant you a +2 circumstance bonus on Bluff, Diplomacy, and Intimidate when dealing with other members of high society.

Library Card (Dark Archive): You have proven yourself a valuable tool to the Dark Archive and gain access to restricted or dangerous information. You may use this boon to buy a tip or scrap of forbidden lore from the Dark Archive's sages, granting you a +5 circumstance bonus on a single Knowledge skill check, or a Diplomacy check made to gather information. This ability allows you to make a Knowledge skill check untrained. When you use this boon, cross it off your Chronicle sheet.

Friend of the Library (Dark Archive): Zarta Draldeen has personally taken notice of your loyalty and cruelty, and recognizes you as an irreplaceable asset. The next time you are in Chelixa, she opens up her personal collection, offering you a single potion, scroll, or elixir worth up to 250 gp. When you use this boon, cross it off your Chronicle sheet.
