This Chronicle sheet grants access to the following:

☐☐☐ Ally of the Exchange: Your endeavors on behalf of the Pathfinder Society have been extremely beneficial for the Exchange, and the faction has noticed. Whenever you purchase an item whose total price is less than or equal to 1,000 gp \times your character level, you can check a box next to this boon to receive a 10% discount on that purchase. This reduction in cost does not stack with any other boons or abilities that reduce the cost to purchase the chosen item, and items obtained in this manner cannot be sold for more than was spent to acquire them under any circumstances.

☐☐☐☐ Corporate Espionage (Exchange Faction): You have rescued Kahsu, the apostate cleric of Norgorber. Utilizing his insights into Aspis Consortium operations, you have facilitated an Exchange campaign to further undermine Aspis operations while strengthening the Exchange's business opportunities, granting you control of a minor Exchange trading outpost in the Kaava Lands. When performing your Day Job check, if the result of your check is greater than or equal to 15 + half your character level, check one box next to this boon. Once all five boxes next to this boon are checked, your business in the Kaava Lands has become fully sustaining and you are able to reap its rewards, gaining an additional 200 gp per XP gained when completing an adventure.

Cyclops Stonecrafting: The Society's repeated expeditions into the ancient cyclops city of Kaddodi have unlocked the ancient secrets of cyclops stonecrafting. Characters with this boon can purchase primarily metal weapons and armor made out of specially treated hematite, which is as strong as iron and doesn't have the fragile quality. These stone items cost the same amount as base items of their type, but they weigh only 75% of a base items of their type and are immune to rust effects such as the rusting grasp spell or a rust monster's rust ability.

☐☐☐ Fiend-Keeper (Exchange Faction): You have dedicated Exchange resources, or your own personal wealth, toward providing the grippli fiend-keepers and their tribes with the resources necessary to protect themselves and guard the powerful asura trapped beneath Kaddodi. As payment for your services, the gripplis have presented you with a token attuned specifically to you that can grant you some of the power siphoned from the bound fiend. You can check one of the boxes next to this boon to cast either deeper darkness or haste as a spell-like ability with a caster level equal to your character level.
