This Chronicle sheet grants access to the following:

Golden Curse of Haagenti: You participated in a body-warping ritual dedicated to the demon lord Haagenti, patron of alchemy, invention, and transformation. The experience has converted part of your flesh into gold plates, granting you fire resistance 10 and a 25% chance to negate the extra damage from a sneak attack or critical hit (as per the light fortification armor property); however, your reduced flexibility imposes a -6 penalty to Dexterity, and the demon lord's influence gives you a -2 penalty to Wisdom. The curse can be removed by a remove curse or similar magic (caster level check DC 25); if removed, cross this boon off your Chronicle sheet. If you did not participate in the ritual during the adventure, cross this boon off your Chronicle sheet.

Hero of Multhok: You have freed Shyar Burkin and the Multhok colony of mutants from slavery within the Karggat Mines. As a sign of gratitude, he promises to repay you in any way he can—typically by helping you dredge up rumors or extracting you from a dangerous situation. You may check one of the boxes included with this boon before rolling a Knowledge (local) check or a Diplomacy check to gather information to gain a +5 circumstance bonus on the check. You may also check any number of boxes when spending Prestige Points to have your body recovered by a rescue team to reduce the cost by a number of Prestige Points equal to the number of boxes you check. When you have checked all of the boxes, cross this boon off your Chronicle sheet.
